

WOLVERINE

Industrial & Manufacturing Markets

You want to minimize downtime and supply the world with products...

...We want to protect your people and facilities so you can.

With many years of experience designing and installing systems for the industrial and manufacturing industry, Wolverine is well positioned to take on your needs. Our portfolio includes work on major production and processing facilities in a multitude of different industrial environments.

Our expertise and commitment to quality and safety, decreases costs over the life of the system. We have completed millions of dollars worth of automotive, industrial and manufacturing projects nationwide to validate our abilities in the market. In addition, Wolverine has completed projects in the oil and gas market, and has the policies and procedures in place to respond to their elevated safety requirements.

Wolverine Fire Protection Co., as a full service design build fire protection contractor, has the ability to staff each level of need that you may have. This includes wet/dry suppression, clean agent/special hazards, detection, alarm, and releasing. Our staff includes engineers, design technicians, and fitter foreman/project managers. We have the ability to field installation crews comprised of sprinkler fitters. Our established supply chain and product delivery systems eliminate complications of project location - We travel to where your project is located.

System Experience:

- Dry systems
- Deluge systems
- Detection
- Wet Sprinkler systems
- System risers
- Supply systems
- Foam suppression
- Water mist suppression

Value Adding Capabilities:

- BIM design program capabilities
- Engineers that sit on NFPA committees
- In house professional engineers, fire protection engineers, and designers
- ISO 9001-2008
- NQA-1 2008
- Familiarity with API standards and NFPA codes & standards

Offering high quality professional fire protection and a solid commitment to the preservation of lives and property since 1958

Locations throughout the United States

1-800-530-9006

www.wolverinefp.com